you are a child of the universe

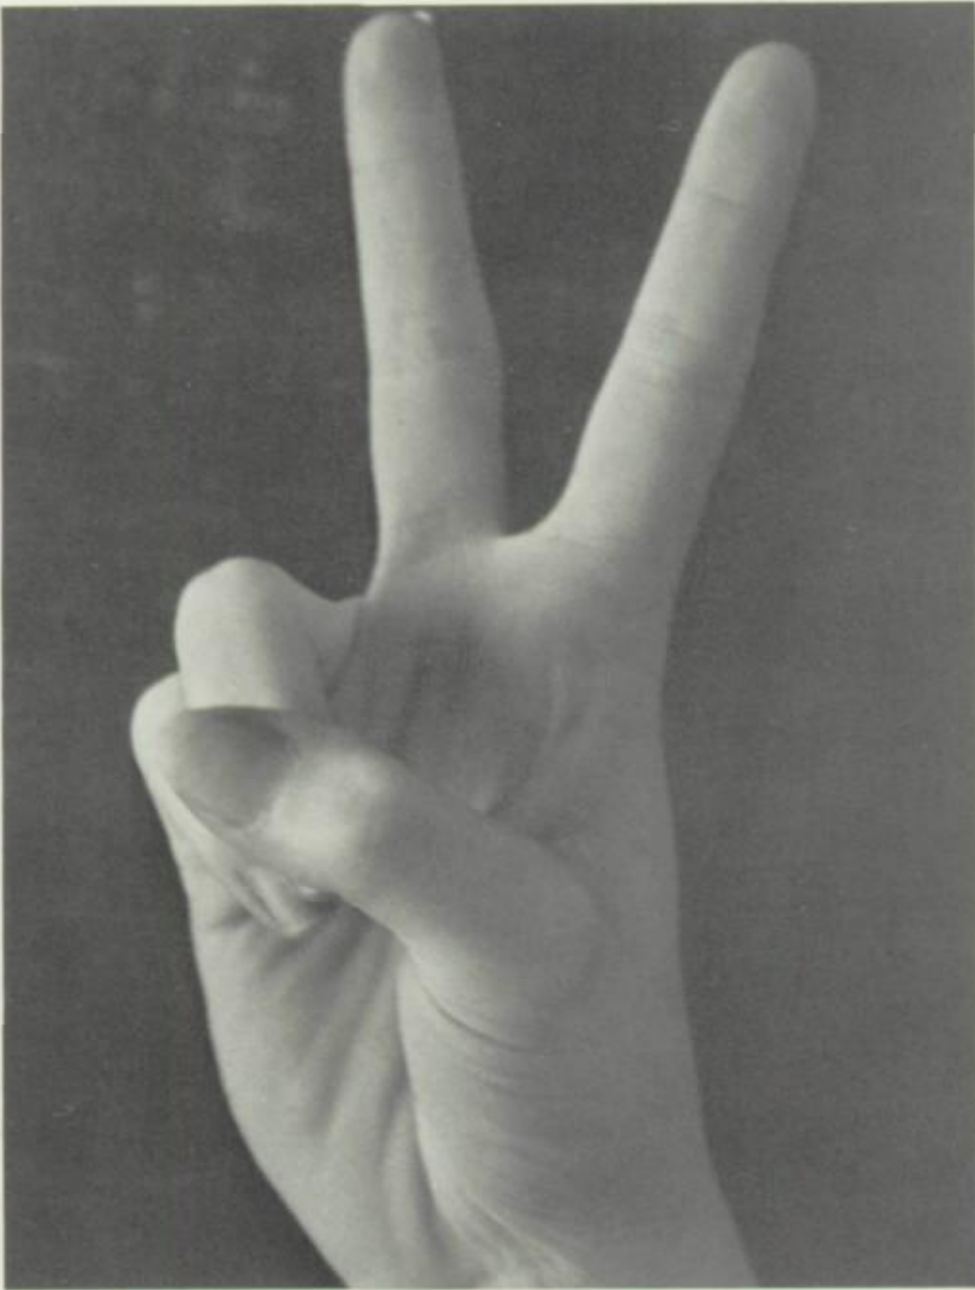

You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees & the stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should.

desiderata

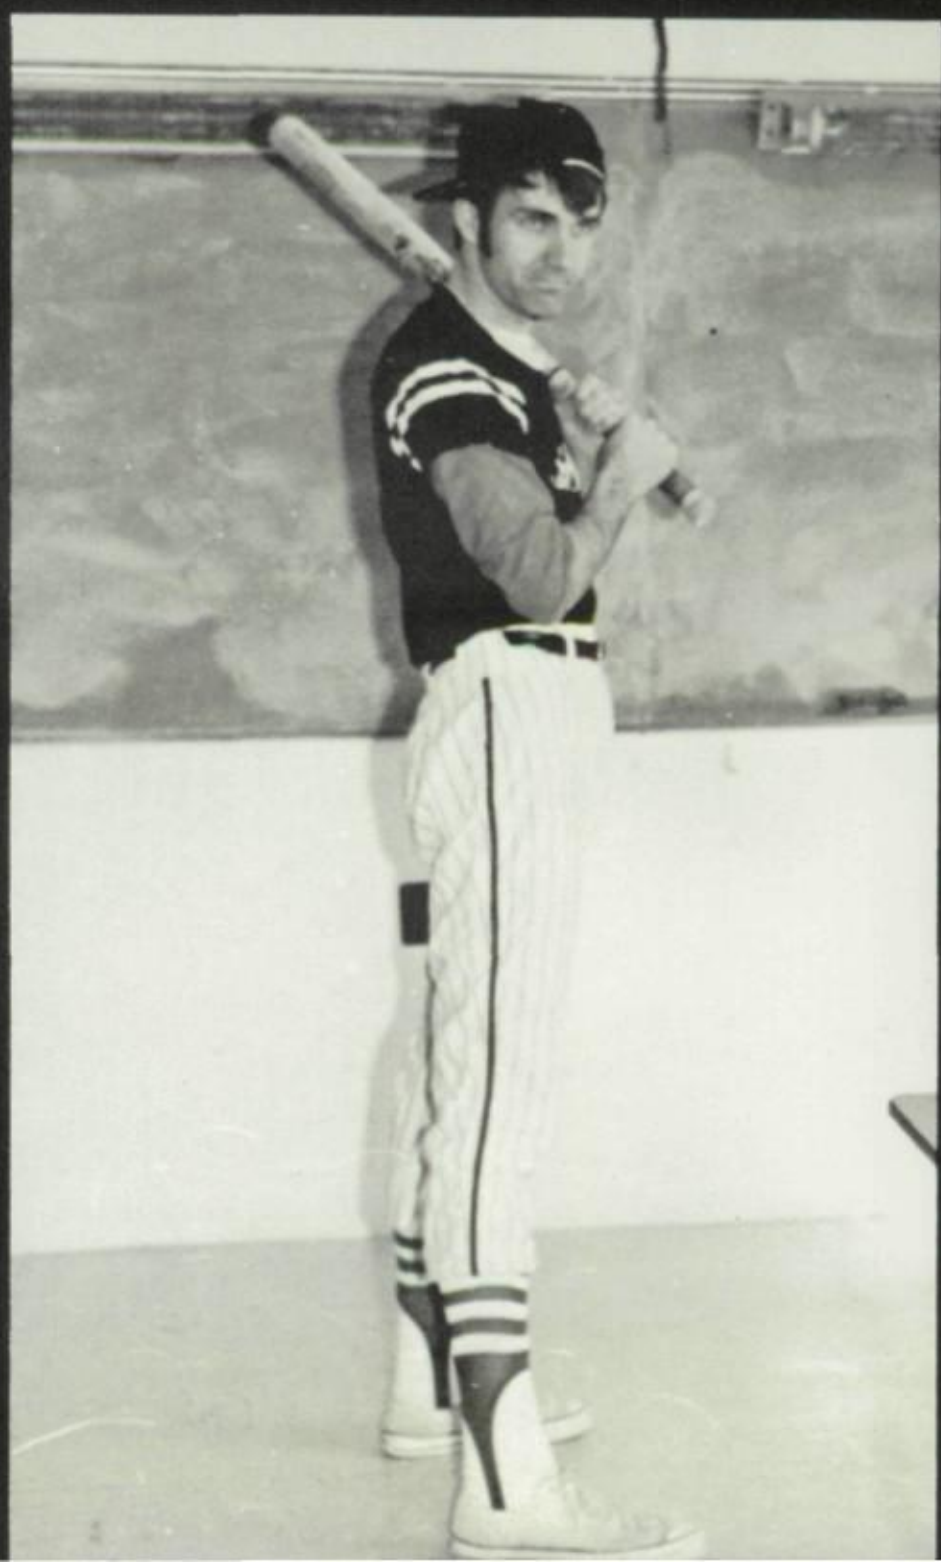

Go placidly amid the noise and the haste,
and remember what peace there may be in silence.
As far as possible without surrender be on good terms with all persons.
Speak your truth quietly and clearly;
and listen to others, even the dull and ignorant;
they too have their story.
Avoid loud and aggressive persons, they are vexations
to the spirit.
If you compare yourself with others you may become vain and bitter;
for always there will be greater and lesser persons than yourself.
Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans.
Keep interested in your own career, however humble;
it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time.
Exercise caution in your business affairs;
for the world is full of trickery.
But let this not blind you to what virtue there is;
many persons strive for high ideals;
and everywhere life is full of heroism.
Be yourself.
Especially do not feign affection.
Neither be cynical about love;
for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is as perennial as the grass.
Take kindly to the counsel of years,
gracefully surrendering the things of youth.
Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune.
But do not distress yourself with imaginings.
Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness.
Beyond a wholesome discipline be gentle with yourself.
You are a child of the universe no less than the trees and the stars;
you have a right to be here.
And whether or not it is clear to you,
no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should.
Therefore be at peace with God,
whatever you conceive Him to be.
And whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life keep peace with your soul.
With all its sham, and drudgery and broken dreams,
it is still a beautiful world.
Be Cheerful. Strive to be happy.

faculty

As a new principal, Mr. James Stephan has done much to improve our school. His ideas on leadership and school management were welcomed by faculty, parents, and students alike.

Along with being treasurer Elder C.F. Brooks took on the added responsibility of registrar. Mrs. Marijane Wohlers took time out from her studies at MSU to help in the office as assistant registrar, and secretary to the principal.

 History, Phys. Ed.

As history teacher, Mr. William Brace endeavored to instill in the students' minds the relationship between history and current events. His classes were both stimulating and informative.

Along with building strong minds, Mr. Brace was interested also in building strong bodies; his Phys. Ed. classes did just that. He also helped organize the various sports and tournaments.

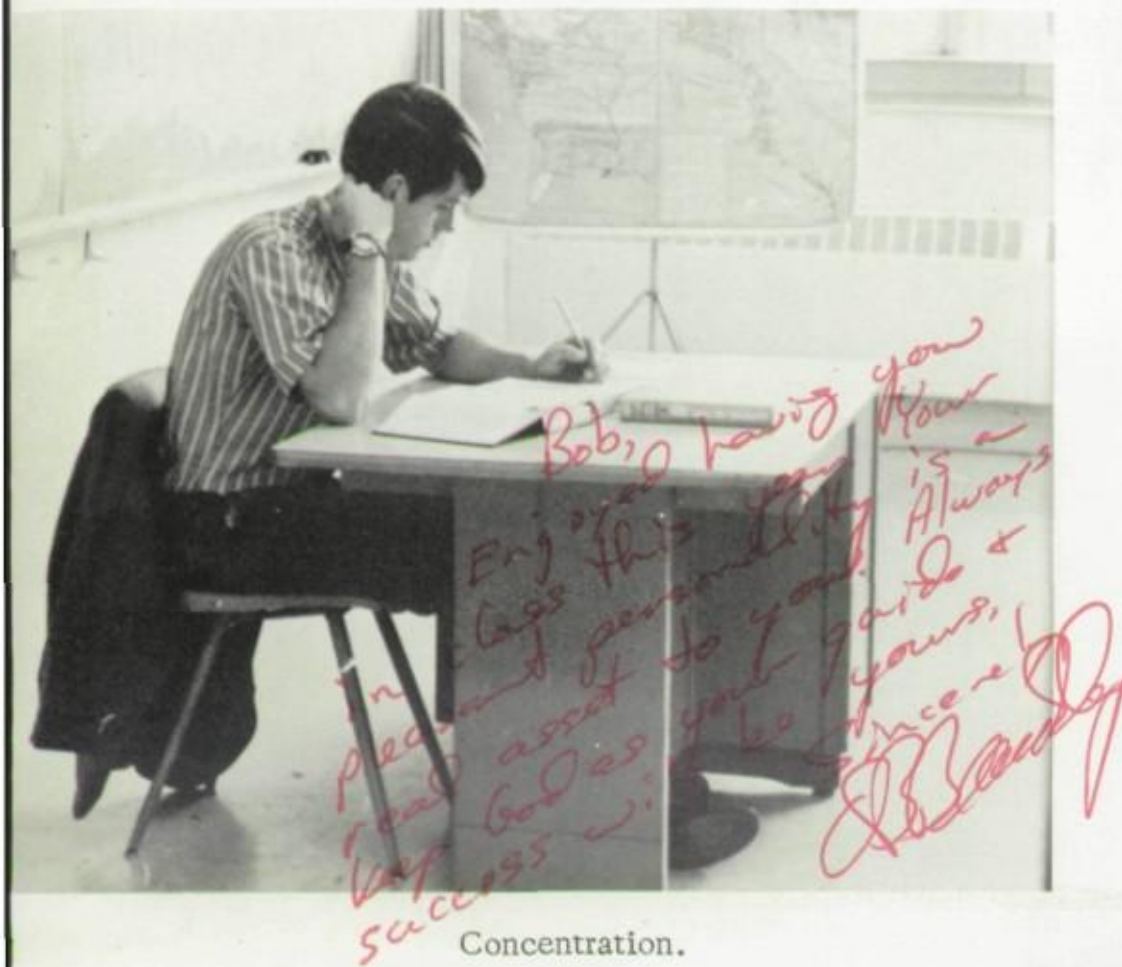

Another of our new faculty is Mrs. Marsha Rasmussen. As librarian she has organized and built up many sections of our library.

Along with those duties she taught two Home Ec. classes. She tried to teach her students the practical arts of home-making which can be useful to them.

intellect

Mr. David Beardsley was a new man on campus. As Bible instructor and guidance counselor, he kept the students busy with many interesting assignments, and also helped us with our various problems. He actively participated in sports, too.

Elder James Innis was kept busy with his duties in the English department. He endeavored to teach us an appreciation of the finer arts. He also served as advisor for the CUM LAUDE, and LEDGE LORE.

Mr. Arthur Rasmussen, the math and science teacher, tried to give the students an understanding of the mysteries of numbers. He also taught an auto mechanics class on alternate Sundays; his help with photography was greatly appreciated. In spite of his busy schedule, he always had a joke and a laugh for everyone.

Business education is an important field, and these duties were taken on by Mr. James Thomas, who is among the ranks of the new faculty members. He also served as coordinator for the social activities.

The Honor Society was quite active this year. One trip was the honors day program at Andrews University. This was for the senior members only, and was beneficial in helping the students plan their college years.

There was also an expedition to Detroit. We saw many interesting and educational things, and had fun while doing it.

Getting to know one's schoolmates increases the enjoyment of learning. Visiting faculties' homes during a progressive party set the pace for getting acquainted. Games such as cotton relay, black magic, catch the rat, and teenage "baby" bottle contest evoked shrieks from the happy group. A pizza feast was a filling climax to the evening's pleasure.

The first item of the agenda for the fall picnic was a short devotional given by Mr. J. Stephan. Following this we divided into teams for a gum chewing relay. The object was to get the gum out of the wrapper and into your mouth while wearing big gloves.

Then came the war paint. The students divided into two groups for a game of capture the flag. The teams were identified by red or blue paint smeared on their faces.

After a good lunch, the guys engaged in a couple of football games. The Sophomores and Juniors won over the Freshmen and Seniors. This was followed by a game between students and faculty in which the faculty showed that you are never too old to win.

"Are you sure you want a piece of gum, Carol!"

"All right you guys!"

Our Saturday nights this year were filled with many interesting and varied programs. Mr. Thomas and the social committee, together with our Student Association president, Glen Middaugh, and vice-president, Lillian Mc Connell, spent long hours planning activities.

One program which was especially good, was the Harlem Sattalites basketball team. Their funny antics and stunts delighted and pleased everyone.

Other programs included Felix Lorenz, whose magical abilities left us wondering what happened. The Texiera Family presented an evenings entertainment, and the musical abilities of the children were very unusual. Band, and Choir concerts occupied a number of Saturday nights. The Tumbling Team also performed on more than one occasion.

The "feed-in" at Blehms.

Our fall week of prayer speaker was Elder Don Blehm. His theme emphasized the identity crises, which is a major problem today with all.

Students and Faculty were invited to Elder Blehm's house Thursday night for an informal dinner, followed by a movie.

A candlelight communion service, which was held Friday evening, was an inspiring benediction to our week of prayer.

aldrich's team dominates season

Soon after school began Mr. W. Brace started the intramural program by picking four captains. Teams were chosen and the games began.

The first half was not dominated by any one team. The teams seemed to be equal in strength. With some very exciting games, the first half ended with Ross and Aldrich tied for first. The second half was dominated by Aldrich's team. Hilton's team threatened Aldrich for a playoff for the second half, but in an action-packed game Aldrich won 12-8. Aldrich and Ross had a playoff game for the first half, in which Aldrich won the game and the championship.

victory for aldrich's team

The All-Star game was played at old Everett field in Lansing. It was a beautiful night for football.

The game was played strategically by both sides. The All-Star team played primarily a passing game, while Aldrich's team played strictly a running game.

There were many penalties against both sides which brought back a number of touchdowns.

The game ended with Aldrich ahead of the All-Stars 12-6. The referees chose Dennis McIntosh as the most valuable play for the game.

Peace!

ser-r-vice!

Ser-r-r-vice! This call was heard quite often during our volleyball season. The teams this year were well-balanced; the girls played along with us, which made the games very interesting with close scores. Three teams were tied for 1st. place, which made a more challenging season.

In basketball again this year we had four very good teams. Our season was divided into six game halves, with each team playing a total of twelve games. At the end of the first half all of the teams had won at least once, with victory having gone five times to the first place team.

A new feature of the season was regulation rules. This made the games last a little longer and caused some of us to get quite tired. In spite of the fact, we all enjoyed the season very much.

There are also many activities to become involved in. The Junior-Senior Banquet, Junior-Senior Picnic, and fund raising projects. The class trip, which was to Washington D.C. this year, was also one of the highlights of the year.

What are these kids coming to?

They're coming to realize that there's more to life than a fast buck that comes from a materialistic society. They're more interested in contributing something to society by helping people. One of the best ways is by helping people who aren't in the physical shape they should be. Medicine and its related fields can be a rewarding profession for people with a sincere desire to help make things better for everyone.

Dear Bob,
It's been fun
going to school with you & working with
you. Even when I got beat on and called untrue names. If you ever call me I don't again. I'll just, just. Well, I'll take care of Maureen and have lots of fun
this summer.

strive to be happy

With all its sham, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be careful. Strive to be happy.

Dear Bob,
This is really awful, I can't hardly think of anything to write. Besides that my pen isn't writing very good. I guess I can start this school year for making reasons I didn't miss very much school this year is because I wanted to see you every day. Don't forget the fun we had on Sundays in "Auto-Mechanics" class. I'll get that dollar back to you some how, in some shape or form. I guess I better quit, so someone else will have room to write to.
Thanks again for all the fun I had this year.
Love ya lots,
Marilyn

Hey Hairbottle,

fine

Hi Bob
 Don't want to hard drive
 summer in the mill.
 take it easy on
 the girls.

Bob has been a cool
 year and I hope
 the next two will be the same. I hope you will be one of my business partners next year too. Keep the faith at least for two more years.
 Danie Holley

Bob, I really don't know you that
 well but I guess
 if you go with Marilyn, you'll be. Be good and have fun. Love
 Bob

Mr. Bob,
 It was a great pleasure
 going to school with you and Marilyn. You two great assets to our school.
